Seven-Year-Old Has Gay Time on Shopping Spree

Christmas came early this year for Sandra Greswick of 4066 Buff St., in Torrance. She was one of the two lucky winners of Zody's Toy Marathon, just one of the many activities highlighting Zody's Birthday Celebration Sale continuing throughout the month of June.

On Thursday at Zody's, 182nd and Hawthorne, Sandra spent a thrilling five minutes in the toy department and was allowed to place, during that period of time, all the toys she wanted into a shopping car . . . hers to keep.

Zody's shopping cart showed that Sandra took full advantage of her run in the toy department.

Cost of Local Government Rises

The cost of local government in California was $306.88 per person for the 1959-60 fiscal year, State Controller Alan Cranston reported this week.

Cranston said the figure includes the combined expenditures of cities, counties, school districts and special districts. Los Angeles County's per capita cost for all local governmental agencies was $326.87.

Classes Visit Lomita Museum

Fifth and sixth grade classes from the First Lutheran Elementary School, 1725 Flower, visited Kuska's Museum in Lomita last week. Their teacher, Mrs. Loraine Brewer, urges all schools in the area to visit the unique museum.

The classes saw a rare doll collection, china, glassware, furniture, clothing, statuary, clocks, documents, and other items of interest to every age group. The museum is open to the public every day of the week, and the Kuskas have extended an invitation to the entire community to visit the museum.

Harvey NLRB Hearings to Move to LA

Charges by the United Steel Workers that Harvey Aluminum plants in Torrance and The Dalles, Ore., hire investigators to spy on union officials brought subpoenas to three top government officials Wednesday.

Subpoenaed were Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg, and National Labor Relations Board general counsel Stuart Rothman.

The Union has charged that the aluminum company hires investigators of the Wallace Security Agency to spy on union activities at the two plants.

The federal officials have until tomorrow to provide records of the first NLRB hearings on the case. The hearings will move to Los Angeles to hear evidence about the case at the Torrance facility.

Victim Tied, Loses $125 To Gunman

A Torrance tavern owner was bound with a clothesline rope by a bandit who escaped with $125 during a mid-afternoon holdup this week, according to Torrance police.

Sidney Nevell, 44, told police the gunman entered The Retreat at 3603 Pacific Coast Hwy. about 2 p.m. and ordered him to hand over the cash. Nevell was ordered to a rear room after turning over the money.

A piece of clothesline rope was used to bind the victim before the gunman fled in Nevell's late model car. The car was found about a mile from the robbery scene.

Nevell said it took him several minutes to free himself from the ropes and notify police.

The gunman was believed to be about 40 years of age.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL LABS GIVEN EQUIPMENT BY MOBIL OFFICIALS

The Torrance Refinery of Mobil Oil Co., recently presented to the Torrance Unified School District numerous pieces of basic laboratory equipment for use by the Torrance high schools.

Blind People Need Drivers

A renewed appeal for volunteer drivers to transport blind persons to and from the Braille Institute at 741 N. Vermont Ave. was issued today by the Institute.

Anyone who can help should contact Miss Betty Sinclair in Volunteer Services, at NO 3-1111, Ext. 20.

Some blind people, it was explained, who want to participate in the educational and recreational programs offered by the Institute, still lack transportation.

This equipment, all in excellent condition, was declared surplus when most of the services performed by the company's Vernon Laboratories were taken over by the Torrance refinery and the Paulsboro, N. J., research and development laboratories.

Among the items were analytical and torsion balances, a vacuum pump, and several thousand pieces of glassware ranging from simple test tubes to complicated specially blown equipment. Also included in the donation were technical publications such as periodicals, technical society reports, and textbooks from the library which had been maintained at the Vernon Laboratory.

While the science classes were the primary beneficiaries of this gift, in at least one of the three high schools the benefits have been extended to another department.

An art teacher at South High happened to see the glassware, and immediately appropriated several of the more exotic and bizarre pieces, which would not have any practical application in routine laboratory work, for use as models by his art students.
